From the Principal's Desk

"Being the principal of ATHS is not really a job; it is in fact a labor of love."

February 2004

Greetings, fellow alumni!

I hope this newsletter finds all of you well and happy. ATHS has enjoyed a terrific 2003-2004 school year to date. Over 2200 students are crossing the thresholds of our 16 buildings this year in kindergarten and ninth through twelfth grades. Our graduates came out in force during the homecoming game this fall. The crowd was vocal, spirited, and fun. The large bass drum made its first appearance at a ball game since the 1980's. The students and former students were excited to see it in the parade prior to kickoff.

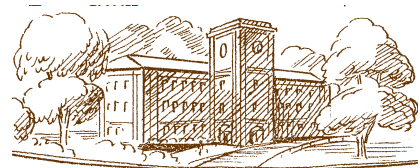

The winds of change are blowing through IPS [Indianapolis Public Schools] in general, and ATHS in particular. We are currently on a journey to explore the establishment of small autonomous high schools on our campus. The campus and the name would essentially remain the same. It is proposed that we would develop six schools of no more than 400 students each. The schools would probably be named the Academies at Arsenal Technical High School. More on this topic at a later time.

On a personal note, I wish to extend my heartfelt thanks to the Alumni Association for the Karl Stipher Award for service to Arsenal Technical High School awarded to me last June. I was fairly speechless when the beautiful vase was presented to me at the alumni activities in 2003. Imagine receiving such recognition for doing what one truly enjoys in a place that is held in one's heart. Being the principal of ATHS is not really a job; it is in fact a labor of love. I adore teenagers and love Tech and wish to promote both in positive, supportive ways. Once again, thank you!

Respectfully,

Peggy B. Clark

Marilyn Hoffman is our Stipher Award Winner

Our Karl Stipher Award winner for 2004 is Marilyn Hicks Hoffman (1960). She graduated from Tech with majors in Math and Music. When attending Indiana University, she was enrolled in the School of Music, and added enough Math courses for a degree in Mathematics, but, she says, "the Music school doesn't give those." After receiving her degree, Marilyn taught Math at Arlington High School for two years, and then at Tech for 34 years, also teaching two Chorus classes for the Tech Music Department one year.

Around 1970, Marilyn and her husband were asked by Laverne Stewart to join the Tech Alumni Board, and they have both been serving Tech and its alumni ever since. Marilyn served as our Alumni Association President from 1978 to 1981.

Other memberships include: Daughters of Union Veterans, Mu Phi Epsilon, Indianapolis Civil War Round Table, Indianapolis Rose Society, Athenaeum Turners, and the Indiana German Heritage Society. She is retired from Tech, the Indianapolis Symphonic Choir, the Indianapolis Arts Chorale, and the Athenaeum Orchestra. At Zion Evangelical United Church of Christ, she sings in the choir, and plays in the Bell Choir.

The exact impact to Tech is not known at this point, but rest assured that the Tech Alumni Association is represented at these talks, and that more information will be shared with you in the Fall 2004 issue of TECHnically Speaking.

Adrienne Nell—Duane Blankenhorn Award

The Duane Blankenhorn Award is given by the Tech Alumni Association to individuals who have provided exemplary service to Tech and its students through service on the Alumni Board.

Adrienne Gasaway Nell graduated from Tech in 1954. Following her grade school years at I.P.S. #81, she entered Tech with her friends which included Graham Nell, her future husband. Like many other high school students during the 1950's, Adrienne found it necessary to work, so participation in extra-curricular activities was extremely limited. She began her employment career in 1953 at Indiana Bell, from which she retired in 1991.

She and Graham were married over 47 years until his death in August 2003. They have four children: Kathleen Nell Sahm, one of the original teachers for the IPS Key Learning Center; Michael, owner and proprietor of the Boone Village Barber Shop in Zionsville, Indiana; Ryan, who resides in Evanston, Illinois; and Grant, who lives in Hamilton, Ohio. She has 9 grandchildren, and 5 great-grandchildren.

During her children's formative years, Adrienne served as a Girl Scout Leader and as a Den Mother for Cub Scouts. She is a member of Old Bethel United Methodist Church, where she serves as a Trustee, is a volunteer for Meals on Wheels, and has worked on construction with a Habitat for Humanity team from her church.

For many years, Adrienne served on the ATHS Alumni Board as the Recording Secretary, and Assistant Treasurer. In that capacity, she enjoyed being "the lady in the hat" each Tech Alumni Day during campus activities. Throughout her tenure on the Board, she served on the Scholarship Selection Committee and assisted other board members, as needed. She also served as a committee member for her class of 1954 25th and 40th class reunions. She received the prestigious Hanson H. Anderson Award from the ATHS Alumni Association in 1994.

Asked why she thinks she was chosen as the 2004 Duane Blankenhorn Award recipient, she said, "I truthfully do not know. I am just one of those ordinary people who have tried to live life honestly, to love God, my family and friends, and to help others when needed."

Doyne Swinford— Honorary Tech Graduate

Doyne W. Swinford will be proclaimed an Honorary Graduate of Arsenal Technical High School in ceremonies on Alumni Day. Mr. Swinford graduated from Clinton High School on the banks of the Wabash River. After receiving his B.A. degree from Indiana State University, he got a fellowship to Indiana State to obtain his M.A. degree in Latin. He is now the only Latin teacher in the Indianapolis Public Schools.

He recently was awarded a Lilly Endowment Creative Teacher Fellowship which was awarded to 100 teachers out of 900 applicants in the state of Indiana. He also played a key role with the Tech Alumni Association in getting the new Carillon for Stuart Hall, and is in charge of the programming and scheduling of it.

Mr. Swinford's interests include gardening (he is a Master Gardener), and art. The day after Alumni Day, he will be leaving Indianapolis on a trip to visit major Art museums. He plans to visit New York City's Metropolitan Museum of Art, then fly to Rome to visit several museums there, as well as the Vatican. Also planned are visits to museums in Pompeii, Florence, Paris, and London.

Robert Indiana Named a "Living Legend"

Robert Indiana (1946) was honored this past July as one of the year's "Living Legends." The Indiana Historical Society is in its fifth year of honoring people with Indiana connections who have made significant contributions to society. Last year's banquet, held July 25, honored eight such individuals.

Honored as 2003's Living Legends were: Robert Indiana, artist; Alan Nolan, Civil War authority; William Raspberry, Pulitzer Prize-winning syndicated columnist; Ned Rorem, musician/composer; Chris Schenkel, sportscaster; Twyla Tharp, choreographer; Dr. Joseph E. Walther, founder of Winona Hospital and the Walther Cancer Institute; and J. Reid Williamson, Jr., head of the Historic Landmarks Foundation of Indiana.

TECH ALUMNI DAY IS SATURDAY

Where Are They Now?

News of Tech Alumni from around our nation and the world.

Lucile May Pell (1923) lives in Logansport, Indiana, and is now 98 years young. She worked for Railway Service and Supply for 35 years, then 20 years as a secretary for Dr. Wayne Ritter. She retired at age 80. She keeps herself busy these days with reading.

Pat Perkins (1944) spent her professional life as a hospital administrator in marketing and public relations in Connecticut. The state legislature honored her for her volunteer work in various agencies and her work on the U.S. Constitution Bicentennial committee. She now lives in Noblesville, Indiana. She says, "life is great and I am thankful for the wonderful education Tech gave me."

Fred Dickmeyer (1959), of Tampa, Florida, fondly remembers what he was taught in Mrs. Mendenhall's class at Tech: "Whatever you hate to do the worst, do it first; then everything else will be that much easier." Fred says that he still uses that principle today concerning anything where he has a choice, and that it really works well. He encourages all who have had a teacher who inspired them, to thank them now, while there is still time.

Ronnii Williams Shelby (1990) lives in Indianapolis with her husband and son, and works for the Indiana Department of Commerce.

Bill Barringer (1955) lives in Rancho Mirage, California. He owns a 1935 Indy race car, which he drives in vintage auto races. It is a replica of the car his father, Ralph Barringer, drove in the 1935 Indianapolis 500.
